Bill to Promote Commerce Between States—Bill Passed to Remove Disabilities From Southern Citizens—National Currency Bill—Disabilities of R. R. Butler, National Congressman Elect, Removed—River and Harbor Improvement Discussion.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 15, 1868.

SENATE.

Mr. SHERMAN introduced a bill to promote commerce among the several States, and cheapen transportation of mail and military stores. He stated it proposed the construction of several railroads in different directions from Washington, and moved its reference to a select committee to report early next session. Agreed to.

Mr. STEWART called up the bill from the House to relieve the disabilities of certain citizens of North Carolina.

Mr. DOOLITTLE moved to insert the names of Jos. W. Terrell and Jos. Kenor, of Webster county, North Carolina, which, after discussion, was rejected—23 to 12; Messrs. Cole, Ferry, Henderson, Sprague and Van Winkle voting with the Democrats.

Mr. HENDERSON moved to insert the name of George W. Jones, of Tennessee.

After discussion it was agreed to.

The name of Thomas J. Mackey, of South Carolina, was also inserted.

Mr. VICKERS offered the following additional section:

And be it further enacted, that all legal and political disabilities imposed by the United States upon all citizens of the Southern States, be and the same are hereby removed, provided that such persons shall first take an oath before a magistrate of the county in which he may reside, that he will support the Constitution of the United States and that this section shall not apply to any one who may be under indictment for violations of the laws of the United States.

Rejected without discussion and the bill passed by a party vote —35 to 6—except Messrs. Fowler and Wade, who voted no with the Democrats, and Messrs. Johnson and Patterson, who voted aye.

At the instance of Mr. Johnson, he was excused from serving on the committee to introduce the Chinese Embassy.

The Chair appointed as the select committee of seven called for on Mr. Sherman's bill, Messrs. Sherman, Sumner, Chandler, Pomeroy, Stewart, Buckalew and Vickers.

The bill provides for the separate incorporation of the Washington and New York Railroad, the Washington and Cleveland Railroad and Telegraph Company, and the Washington and Cincinnati Railroad and Telegraph Company. The list of incorporators of the latter road is changed from that already published by the omission of a number of names and the substitution of Jay Cooke, J. W. Riggs and others in their stead.

At a few minutes past two, the bill in regard to the national currency was again taken up. The question was on the amendment of Mr. Davis, proposing to withdraw a pro rata amount from the States having an excess of banking capital and distribute it among those requiring it, to place them on an equal footing with the former.

After discussion Mr. DAVIS, at the suggestion of Mr. CONKLING, modified the amendment by specifying the amount of withdrawal from excess of twenty millions.

The debate was continued, during which Mr. HENDERSON urged the impolicy of contraction, arguing that the business of the country rather called for expansion. He questioned the propriety of a speedy return to specie payments. The cry for it was a myth and a humbug. It would not last five months if it were resumed. Until mechanical and agricultural prosperity had built up foreign balances in our favor, it was idle to talk about specie payments.

Finally Mr. DAVIS' amendment, as modified, was adopted—yeas 26, nays 16.

Mr. SHERMAN said the Senate having decided to prohibit any increase of bank circulation, except withdrawing it from three or four New England States, he had carefully prepared an amendment in lieu of that of the Senator from Kentucky, (Mr. Davis) which was not, in his opinion, properly framed, and which he hoped the Senator would withdraw for such purpose. He read his substitute and continued, saying he was glad the Senate had decided to withdraw a small per centage of bank circulation from the east. He could assure them that if they should adjourn without giving an increase to the West and South, it would give rise to a rude spirit of dissatisfaction. If his amendment was adopted, those States having none now would have a local circulation by slow and gradual process. According to the law the Comptroller of Currency was to distribute circulation one-half according to population and one-half according to business requirements, and the result would be that New York would be found to have no more than its proportion, and the only States affected would probably be Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut and possibly Maryland and Vermont. Certainly not more than six or seven would be called upon to furnish a cent.

Mr. BUCKALEW reminded the Senator that some days since he said he would regard a certain vote to postpone as a test vote on the proposition contained in the first section of the bill forbidding one National Bank to pay interest on the balances of any other.

Mr. SHERMAN explained that several Senators had thus voted merely to give time for examination.

Mr. CHANDLER moved to lay the bill on the table in order, he said, to avoid three or four days discussion—rejected, 21 to 22.

Mr. CHANDLER moved to strike out the first section of the bill and proceeded to argue that injustice would be done country banks by forbidding them thus to employ their surplus capital to advantage.

Mr. CATTELL defended the section, insisting it is illegitimate banking to pay interest on balances of another bank, pointing out that the Bank of Commerce of New York has refused to do such business, and the best bankers are opposed to it. He quoted the opinion of the Comptroller of Currency to the same effect.

Mr. CHANDLER rose to reply, but a motion to adjourn prevailed, despite the protest of Mr. Sherman.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. DAWES called up the Senate amendment to the House bill removing all legal and political disabilities from Roderick R. Butler, member of Congress elect from Tennessee, and permitting the ordinary oath to be administered to him instead of of the test oath, and after discussion it was concurred in by a two-thirds vote—98 against 27.

On motion of Mr. BINGHAM, a message was sent to the Senate requesting the return of the joint resolution in reference to the twenty per cent additional compensation to civil employes in Washington.

A motion to table the resolution was previously voted down—52 against 77.

Mr. FERRY, from Postoffice Committee, reported a bill in reference to the erection of a post office in New York, which, with the report, was ordered printed and recommitted.

Mr. CLARK, Kansas, introduced a joint resolution for the relief of loyal Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians. Referred.

District of Columbia business was considered during the morning hour, and the bill in relation to the Alexandra Canal Company, the Acqueduct bridge across the Potomac river at Georgetown, passed.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the bill reported by the Committee on Commerce making appropriations for the repair, preservation and completion of certain public works.

Mr. ELIOT made a five minutes speech in defence of the general principles of the bill.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, moved to strike out the paragraph appropriating $40,000 for the improvement of the Wisconsin river, and argued that the river could not be made navigable to steamboats under a cost of three millions. In fact the project of making it navigable had been practically abandoned several years ago. He had been in favor of liberal appropriations for river and harbor improvements when there was money in the Treasury; but times had changed and he confessed his views on the subject of making appropriations for mere local improvements had been much modified.

Mr. ALLISON replied to the remark of Mr. Washburne, and denied his statement that the Wisconsin River could not be made practically navigable by steamboats. He regarded it as the most important item in the bill, because it affected the great grain growing region of the West, and also the cost of breadstuffs in New England.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Wisconsin, advocated the appropriation, and stated the great importance of the work.

Mr. WOODWARD said the trouble about improving the navigation of the Wisconsin river was that in the summer there was no water in it.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Wisconsin, contended there was an abundance of water in it, if it could only be controlled by engineering appliance.

Mr. COBB advocated the appropriation, and replied to the remarks of Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, contending the river could be made navigable all the year round with moderate expenditure.

Mr. SCHOFIELD argued that a small river like the Wisconsin, in a single State, should be improved by local enterprise, just as the Monongahela in Pennsylvania had been.

Mr. HOPKINS argued in favor of the appropriation, and to show the importance of the proposed improvement in cheapening the transportation of agricultural products, he claimed the river was capable of being made navigable at cheaper expense than any other water communication would ever be between the Mississippi river and the Lakes.

Mr. FARNSWORTH suggested that Rock River, which flows between Wisconsin and Illinois, was a more feasible route between the Mississippi River and the Lakes.

Mr. DELANO remarked that the bill appropriated over $6,000,000, and that amount was only an installment of the immense sums which the great schemes of internal improvement would render necessary. He therefore thought this expensive policy should be left to a future occasion, when the country would be in better condition.

Mr. ELIOT defended the special item under debate, and the general principles of the bill. The abandonment of internal improvements he regarded as the most disastrous policy that could be pursued. The object of this particular item was to open a water communication between Green Bay and the Mississippi by way of Fox and Wisconsin rivers.

Mr. PILE advocated the general policy of Internal improvements. What the Mississippi most needed was cheap transportation, and for that the water routes would have to be relied upon. He thought the House should not hesitate at appropriating $40,000 to enable the improvement to be made by General Warren.

Mr. WOODWARD declared himself opposed to all these appropriations for internal improvements, and argued that the improvements should be made by local enterprises or by State authority. The Wisconsin river should be improved in that way as the Susquehanna had been.

Mr. ELDRIDGE asked him whether there were not appropriations in this very bill for the improvement of the Susquehannas.

Mr. WOODWARD said he did not dnow that fact, but if there were, he would vote against them on principle. While the genius of the House was tested in endeavoring to devise means to secure money out of the people to pay to the bondholders, many of whom were foreigners, he protested against the waste of those funds in abortive attempts to improve western rivers, which the western States themselves should do. He argued the country should concentrate all its energies to reduce the national debt, which had grown ten millions in the last month.

Mr. PAINE replied to the objection that the proposed work was a Wisconsin measure, and had only a local object, and said that was a great mistake, A measure that would cheapen the transportation of agricultural products of the west was a national one.

Mr, BUTLER argued that the financial condition of the Government did not warrant the making of such experiments. You might as well ask one of the mill owners of Massachusetts, whose mill was mortgaged and not able to meet his responsibilities, to go into a great experiment of improving his property and rendering it more productive. He asked his friends from the Northwest whether they would rather have their rivers improved now, and have the broad charge of extravagance made upon the party this year, on which the power of the Government would be taken out of their hands.

Mr. BANKS argued that the proposition to improve the Wisconsin river was not an experiment. He had seen the experiment with success and had seen by means of wing dams steamers that had been embedded from five to eight feet in the sand float out from that bed into the Mississippi river. He had no doubt that by like means the Wisconsin river could be made navigable.

Mr. SPALDING intimated that he would move to lay the bill on the table.

Mr. FARNSWORTH agreed this was not the time, in the present condition of the country, to enter on these works of improvement.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, withdrew his motion to strike out the item for the Wisconsin river, with the understanding that a vote might be had on each item in the bill.

The House proceeded to consider the other items in the bill.

On a motion by Mr. PAINE the item for the improvement of Milwaukee Harbor was increased from $15,000 to $25,000, that for Racine Harbor from $10,000 to $20,000, and that for Kenosha Harbor from $10,000 to $20,000.

Mr. ASHLEY, O., inquired why no appropriation had been reported for the Harbor of Toledo, O?

Mr. ELIOT replied that last year's appropriation for that purpose had not yet been expended, and it was important that new surveys should be made, and a more perfect plan of improvement adopted.

Mr. SPALDING moved an appropriation of $30,000 for increasing the Ship Canal of Sault Ste Maria. He did so in obedience to instructions of his constituents.

After discussion by Messrs. Schofield, Pruyn, Blair, Mich., and Driggs, Ind., without disposing of the question,

Mr. DELANO moved to recommit the bill, with instructions to the Committee to report a substitute appropriation of $500,000 for the improvement of harbors on the northern lakes and for the St. Clair flats, $150,000 for the improvement of coast harbors, $1,300,000 for the improvement of rivers, including Desmoines, Rock Island Rapids, and Hell Gate in East river, New York, the Wisconsin and Patapsco river, $3,000 to complete reports, maps and diagrams of bridges on the Mississippi river, and $1,000 for the purchase and repair of instruments. He spoke five minutes in support of his motion.

Mr. ELIOT opposed the motion.

Pending the question the House adjourned.

The Vice Chancellor, in conferring the degree, made an address in Latin, in which he alluded in favorable terms to the poet's life, character and works. He also spoke of the generous reception given to Mr. Dickens by the American people, and after expressing gratification at the appointment of Hon. Reverdy Johnson to represent the United States in England, he concluded with an aspiration for enduring friendship between the two nations. Clamor for a Change of Ministry—Juarez Unpopular.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, June 16.—By the arrival of a French steamer from Vera Cruz advices from Mexico to the 12th have been received. Lerdo De Tajeda was compelled on the 6th to resign the position of Minister of Foreign Affairs by order of the Supreme Court. The press, with but few exceptions, clamor for an entire change of Ministry. Castro had voluntarily resigned the office of Minister of Justice. The people demanded only Vallarte should remain in the Ministry. Perfrio Diaz was mentioned as the successor of Tejada, who retains the position of Judge of the Supreme Court. Secars and Priets are both spoken of as the successor of Romera at the head of the Treasury. As a revolution at the Capital is expected if all the Ministers do not resign, the discontent against Juarez is increasing, because of opposition to the action of the Judges of the Supreme Court, and to the will of the people. He claims the privilege of nominating his own Ministers.

The Whisky and Tobacco Tax—Rights of Naturalized Citizens.

WASHINGTON, June 16, 1868.

WHISKEY AND TOBACCO TAX.

The Committee of Ways and Means have appointed Messrs. Hooper, Maynard and Logan a Sub-Committee on Whiskey, and Messrs. Griswold, Allison and Brooks a Sub-Committee on Tobacco. The Committee will not report a bill on these subjects until the close of the present week. They will accompany the modified rates of tax with restrictions and regulations similar to those heretofore reported in the Gen. Tax Bill.

RIGHTS OF NATURALIZED CITIZENS.

A special says the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations has been considering for some time Mr. Banks' bill relative to the rights of naturalized citizens abroad. It is understood Mr. Sumner has consulted Secretary Seward about the matter, and it is stated that functionary has advised the taking out of that section which provides for reprisals or retaliation by arresting subjects of foreign governments who may be within our borders when outrages are perpetrated on American naturalized citizens abroad. Mr. Seward feared this clause in the bill might involve us in difficulty with other governments, and, on his advice, the Committee has agreed to report the bill without it.

Washington Topics and Gossip.

The examination of witnesses by the Managers of Investigation is nearly finished, and the Committee, through General Butler, will make a report to the House during the present week, which will narrate the evidence obtained during the investigation as foreshadowed several days ago. No evidence has been obtained which will show conclusively that any Senators have actually received any money from those opposed to impeachment to assist in acquitting the President, but enough facts have been brought to light by the Committee to satisfy the country at large that through the deep laid schemes of those known as the "whisky ring," impeachment was defeated. The Committee have met with every conceivable obstacle during their investigation. Witnesses met together before being examined, and arranged their evidence so there would be no conflict, and the testimony would be entirely consistent. The large number of telegraphs which the Committee obtained, when given out to the public in the forthcoming report, will be sufficient to prove that a great conspiracy existed to defeat impeachment. All the testimony which has been published from time to time of witnesses, came from witnesses themselves and not from the Managers, and as these were most all favorable to the administration, they carefully avoided giving out whatever would tend to damage their cause. The preparation of the report has been consigned to General Butler, and it has already been commenced.

The Committee on Ways and Means were in session yesterday forenoon, and have entered upon the work of preparing a separate bill as instructed by the House yesterday. The impression prevails that this bill, which will only embrace whisky and tobacco, can be drawn up and presented to the House in a day or two. It is the intention of the Committee to embrace in the new bill all the leading features of those sections in the general bill which relate to whisky and tobacco. These alone cover about one hundred and five closely printed pages, and go into an entire revision of the method of collecting the tax on these two articles. The new bill ordered by the House will probably cover one hundred closely printed pages. In view of this fact it is not improbable that the bill will not be reported to the House before the beginning of next week, and then, in the opinion of many members, will be discussed nearly two weeks before it can be passed.

From present indications Congress will not be prepared to adjourn before the fifteenth or twentieth of July.

The trial of John H. Surratt, which has been postponed until Monday next, is not likely to come off then, as those who represent the Government say that further time will have to be granted them to prepare. If further request is made for postponement, the prisoner will be admitted to bail.

As soon as the House was assembled, Mr. Dawes, from the Election Committee, called up the bill relieving Mr. R. R. Butler, member elect from Tennessee, from certain disabilities incurred for participation in the rebellion, and amending the test oath so that he could take his seat in the present Congress. After a little debate, the bill as amended by the Senate was agreed to by a two-thirds vote—yeas 90, nays 37.

The House Committee on Elections held a meeting yesterday and made an important decision in the Kentucky contested case of McKee vs. Young. Several days ago this case, which had been reported to the House adversely to McKee, was recommitted to the Committee. At the meeting yesterday every Republican member voted to report to the House that McKee was entitled to the contested seat. This was done in view of a principle which was settled in the case of Delano, and which applied also to McKee's case. But little doubt now remains that McKee will be awarded his seat.

General Mulford will be appointed Collector of Internal Revenue at Richmond.

Alexander Cummings, the straw hat and linen pants for soldiers man, is a prominent candidate for Mr. Rollins' place. Mr. Johnson says he wants to select an honest man for the place and one that can be confirmed.

Postmaster General Randall has gone to New York on a visit to some friends. Mr. Woolley has also gone to New York.

Mr. Johnson will allow the new bill regulating contested elections in the city to become a law without his signature.

The bill increasing the salaries of clerks will be lobbied through the Senate as it was through the House.

The tariff bill has been manipulated so as to prevent its passage at this session.

It is not improbable that Mr. Logan's resolution relative to the removal of the capital will receive a heavy vote. The removal of the capital to Cincinnati or St. Louis is only a question of time.

It is generally believed that McCulloch will resign at the close of this month.

Temperance League Meeting.

The Allegheny Temperance League held a regular meeting last night in the First Presbyterian Church, (Rev. Mr. Swift's) Sandusky street, Allegheny, the President elect, Rev. E. E. Swift presiding, and Messrs. P. Parker, M. G. Freeborn and G. W. Bradley officiating as Secretaries. The meeting opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. Swann, after which the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The Committee on Resolutions reported a preamble setting forth that the License law was not properly enforced and a resolution calling on the temperance people of Allegheny county to hold primary elections and select delegates to form a convention to nominate a candidate for County Commissioner. Col. J. B. Clark, Jonathan Gallaher and B. C. Davis were appointed a committee to be charged with the details of this new party movement. After some remarks by A. K. Bell, L. H. Eaton and others, the resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Many distinguished friends of the temperance canse in the State were present, amongst whom we observed several members of the Grand Temple of Honor, now in session in Pittsburgh, Luther T. Hoffman, Esq., financial agent of the State Union. Rev. John Moore, of Philadelphia, and Rev. D. Campbell addressed the meeting, affording much valuable information and counsel. The meeting then adjourned.

—A writer in Echoes from the Clubs thinks the Prince of Wales has a difficult part to play in the future. He says: "Everybody is agreed that there must be no disturbance of existing arrangements while a lady occupies the throne. But the leaders of the revolutionary party have no tenderness toward the Prince of Wales, and regard the Seventh Edward as a royal morsel to be rapidly devoured so soon as he is the representative of monarchy."

—The day of fire crackers sharply attacking defenceless nerves; of stupendously absurd stupidities, courteously called orations; of jammedly uncomfortable swelterings, styled pic nics, the day of terror to all dogs, of horror to quiet-loving citizens, and of universal license, the Ge-lorious Fourth, is fast approaching, and we sit stoically awaiting it's advent, knowing that nothing can avert it. If some kind member of Congress could manage to introduce and pass a bill, which should bodily move the fourth of July to the twenty-ninth of February, he would deserve the thanks of millions.

—Grace Church in Chicago has a fountain let into a niche in one of its outer walls. Clear water runs there always, and above it is carved "Ho, every one that thirsteth." One might wander from the Point to the farthest edge of the consolidated city of Pittsburgh, and not find a place purposely provided where one could drink fresh water. A dozen fresh fountains so arranged as to accommodate man and beast, and scattered over the city, would be a cheap and laudable improvement here. A hundred such fountains would be worth more to the cause of temperance than fifty such men as John B. Gough.

An Old Democratic Funeral.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial gives the following account of the rally of the faithful around the grave of ex-President Buchanan:

The scene of the funeral, on Thursday, had a good deal of quiet, quaint character about it. First, there were the young Democrats, hopeful of nominating victory on the Fourth of July, led by Mayor Hoffman, with fifty of his Common Councilmen, all holding the batons of the city, then there were the worshipful burghers of Berks, Lancaster and York, who vote the Democratic ticket by hereditary duty, and although among the oldest citizens of the United States, many of them Americans by four or five generations, can scarcely speak English. To these—the permanent, undiscomfitted body of the Democracy—were added the ancient seed of the church and residue of the martyrs, the Buchanan Pennsylvania Democrats. Observe them. The keen blue eyes of Wm. B. Reed, the gaunt waists and strange coat-skirts of the Ingersolls, the wild expression of Jim Van Dyke, the red face of William Bigler, the lost countenance of Postmaster Brown. Jerry Black is not here, for he is persuaded that there is at least one day of the almanac between those halcyon times and these of new wine in new bottles, and he has gone over to Chase. But in these particular residues of the pre-Adamite politics, there is not one doubt but that James Buchanan would sleep in permanent fame to-day, had he never reinforced Fort Sumter. They look upon his coffin, saying: "He might have been great, and he would not! The price of greatness was in his hands, only to let our Southern brethren assert their undoubted rights and take possession of the whole country; the blood of a few Abolitionists would have been all the compensation they required. And he would not! Fatal mistake! One blot! But requiescat."

It makes no difference to these goodly mourners what the facts are, what the positions! History expired at her recording work in the year 1861, and all that has happened since has been sand-box, fly-stain, the brutal sign-manuals of the Huns and the Goths, written in the blood of the Roman slain! To these gentlemen, what is anything but what is lost? Mr. Reed was Minister to China; while he is at this grave of the patriarch, Mr. Burlingame, his successor, is a a Mandarin of the First Button, cavorting in Washington on forty thousand dollars a year. Now, Mr. Reed never knew who his successor was. He never heard of Mr. Burlingame. Why need one fly on the common carcass of one common country be known to Mr. Reed by his familiar name among flies? Mr. Burlingame may be a successful adventurer, says Mr. Reed, but that is of no consequence. Did it matter to Josephus what particular tetrarch now ruled where the temple of Solomon used to stand? And so at their wailing place these believers in the kingdom watch the corpse of one who might have saved the country; had he never fired a shot. "The country is paying the shot," says with a chuckle, Mr. Reed, the last Minister to China.

It was not with malice but with mystery and pity that I saw these Rip Van Winkles stand in Woodward Cemetery. It was with even more mystery that I saw the young and hopeful Democracy behind them willing to move history back to give these old gentlemen a chance to prove consistency, to let those pre-Adamites on the Fourth of July nominate at New York the lamb that is to be slain, rather than live in their own generation and deserve some show of victory.

A Sad Story.

One of the saddest stories we ever read was that of a child in Switzerland—a pet boy just as yours, reader—whom his mother, one bright morning, rigged out in a beautiful jacket, all shining with silk and buttons, and gay as a mother's love could make it, and then permitted him to go out to play. He had scarcely stepped from the door of the Swiss cottage, when an enormous eagle swooped him from the ground, and bore him to his nest, high up among the mountains, and yet within sight of the house of which he had been the joy. There he was killed and devoured, the eyrie being at a point which was literally inaccessible to man, so that no relief could be afforded. In tearing the child to pieces, the eagle so placed the gay jacket in the nest that it became a fixture there, and whenever the wind blew it would flutter, and the sun would shine on its lovely trimmings and ornaments. For years it was visible from the lowlands, long after the eagle had abandoned her nest. What a sight it must have been for the parents of the little victim.

TWENTY-FOUR members of the Democratic delegation of Ohio to the National Convention had a caucus at the Burnet House a few days ago. It turned out that the notion of nominating Chase had found its way even into the Ohio delegation. The development of this idea was not very formidable, but its presence was regarded with apprehension. The special subject of the discussion by the Convention was the financial policy of the party. It turned out that only seven out of the twenty-four delegates were converts to the Pendletonian-Enquirer doctrine of paying the national debt in greenbacks. This is an ominous circumstance. In the striking and comprehensive language of Mr. C. W. Woolley—"where's Wash.?" If less than one-third of the Ohio delegation are greenbackers, how are the Pendletonians to overcome the Convention with their "great principle?" One delegate, and he of the highest repute for ability, came out squarely for the repudiation of the national debt, and declared in favor of fighting the battle of the summer upon that issue. —Cin. Com.

JUDGE CHASE recently remarked to a correspondent, of his position as a Democratic candidate: "If they would accept of my principles as their platform, I would. I shall not give up my doctrine of equal rights. They must take that. I shall hold to the reconstruction measures; they are right and constitutional. I drew up the bill—the second one—though I did not have in the military. I would have managed the affairs with civil officers, and called in the military as they were needed. If I could get them to indorse these principles, that would settle them forever."

RIVER NEWS.

Both rivers continue to recede steadily, at this point, with three feet three inches in the Monongahela, and scant five feet in the Allegheny. Weather yesterday was cloudy and sultry in the forenoon, with a heavy shower of rain early in the morning; in the afternoon, however, the clouds broke up and there was a good breeze agoing towards evening.

The Bayard from Parkersburg, is the only arrival we have to report, and in consequence of the low water, she has been laid up for the present. We presume a lighter boat will put in the trade in her place, though, as yet, we have heard no particular boat named.

The Glasgow in command of Capt. Geo. W. Johnson, will leave for Parkersburg today in place of the Eagle, that boat having been obliged for the same reason the Bayard did, to withdraw for the present.

The Delaware, en route from Nashville to Pittsburgh, passed Louisville on Sunday. We take the following items from the Louisville Democrat, of Monday:

The Maggie Hays and barge passed down through the canal about 5 o'clock p. m. yesterday, loaded to the guards.

The Alps went over the falls about 3 o'clock p. m. with a tow of nine barges and two boats of coal for New Orleans. The Neville grounded two boats at Blue River Island, just above Leavenworth, which the Alps will assist off and add to her tow.

The Diamond with 8 barges, and the Fearless with 9 barges of coal for this port arrived yesterday, and after landing their tow immediately landed to Pittsburgh.

The Hercules, with a tow of coal, was due here last night from Pittsburgh.

The Wauanita cleared for St. Louis last evening with all the freight she could take in boat and barge.

The Julia No. 2 cleared for Zanesville as usual with an average trip.

Capt. Thomas Rodgers, of the Selma, is here after an absence of several months.

Business is getting down to a low water stand point at the landing, and there is but little prospect at present of any improvement. It is possible that there may be another June rise, but it is hardly probable, and all the larger class of boats on this end of the Ohio will soon be forced to go into summer quarters, or else go below.

The J. N. McCullough is due here from Cincinnati this forenoon, and will leave as usual to-morrow at noon. Passengers and shippers should bear this in mind and act accordingly.

We clip the following from the Dubuque Herald: Last season the regular wages for pilots on the Upper Mississippi River steamers was $200 per month. This season business opened unfavorably, and active competition sprung up, resulting in low tariffs; a compromise was effected between the Pilot's Association and the N. W. U. Picket Company and $150 per month agreed upon. Matters progressed smoothly until the 20th of April, when Commodore Davidson violated his contract by cutting down wages to $125 per month, and finally a month later to $75, which last move was the hair that broke the camel's back. The Pilot's Association then took the matter in hand, as forbearance had ceased to be a virtue, and notified Captain Davidson and other officers of the line that on the 10th of June wages would have to be restored to last year's standard, or a strike would ensue. That day arriving yesterday, the pilot of the City of St. Paul left the boat at the levee, refusing to perform service until the demand was acceded to. After detaining the boat several hours, with parleying and efforts to effect a compromise, the Packet Company "gave in" and the pilot took his position behind the wheel at $200 per month, whereupon the boat cleared for St. Paul, and thus matters stand at present. The increase affects all packets of the company running above this point.

The Cincinnati Gazette says: For months we have had three fine sidewheel steamers running as regular packets between here and Pittsburgh, which will very shortly be compelled to quit the trade; and even the sternwheel boats that may take their places will not be able to continue in the trade a great while. The boats that have been running in that trade this season have generally not found it profitable, although large quantities of freight have moved in that direction, more, some say, than any previous season for years. Rates have been uniformly low to all points above here on the river, even to those points not reached by railroad.

In the collision case of the steamers Putnam and Belle, at St. Louis, Richard Fryar, pilot of the latter, is bereft of his license for 60 days for negligence and inattention, in violating rule second of the rules governing pilots, in neglecting to stop his boat and back her after it must have been apparent to him that his first signal had not been properly understood by the pilot of the Kate Putnam.

A Cairo telegram, under date of Sunday, says: The Galatea, from Pittsburgh to St. Louis, returned here this evening; after proceeding about twelve miles up the Mississippi, being unable to make headway against the current, on account of the narrowness of her buckets, notwithstanding she is laden to the guards. Her wheels make thirty revolutions per minute but the draft in her chimneys is so deficient that she makes but twenty pounds of steam when sixty is desired. Her buckets will be widened ten inches, and her chimneys lengthened, and she will start again to-morrow evening.

The Vicksburg Times, of Tuesday, says: Considerable excitement was created yesterday by a race from Warrenton to this place, between the Gen. Quitman and the Richmond. At the time both boats came in sight they appeared to be running side by side, and seemed to retain their relative positions until both were abreast of Mathews' saw-mill; here the Quitman's engineers must have "opened her out," for she commenced driving to the front; and was some distance ahead of the low-pressure when her bells were rung to stop the engines. The race, if such it could be called, was conducted with all due caution and the utmost good humor on the part of both commanders, and the Richmond had scarcely landed before Captain Leathers had boarded her, and was congratulating Captain Stut Neal on the excellent rate of speed exhibited by his splendid steamer without particular preparation, and on a few moments' notice. The Richmond had a tremendous passenger list, six hundred head of stock, and two hundred tuns of miscellaneous freight.

600 MILES OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. Sixty miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

At the earliest possible day, will be done.

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is on absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and no more. The Government permits the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy T rail, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turnouts, carshops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through business that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that upon such a property, costing nearly three times their amount, ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

The Company have abundant means in their treasury, and make no appeal to the public to purchase their Bonds, as the daily subscriptions are entirely satisfactory; but they submit that, for entire security and liberal returns, there is certainly no better investment in the market.

The Union Pacific Bonds are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They have thirty years to run, and bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's Office in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. At the present rate of gold, these bonds pay an annual income on their cost of

NEARLY NINE PER CENT.,

AND IT IS BELIEVED THAT THEY WILL SOON BE AT A PREMIUM.

The Company reserve the right to advance the price of their bonds to a rate above par at any time, and will not fill any orders or receive any subscriptions on which the money has not been actually paid at the Company's office before the time of such advance.

Parties subscribing will remit the par value of the bonds and the accrued interest in currency at the rate of six per cent. per annum, from the date on which the last coupon was paid. Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by

JAMES T. BRADY & Co., corner of Wood and Fourth Streets;
HART, CAUGHEY & Co., corner of Wood and Third Streets;
S. McCLEAN & CO., 75 Fourth Street;
PH. R. MERTZ, corner 5th and Wood Sts.;
ROBINSON BROS., 78 Fourth street;

AND IN NEW YORK

At the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau Street, and by

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, No. 59 Wall Street, and by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means for Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices, or to any of the advertised agents.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 141.

AS ANTICIPATED, the House has tabled the general measure, revising the Internal taxes, upon which it has been for some time engaged, and orders the proper Committee to report a special bill relating to the manufacture and sale of distilled spirits and tobacco. When this shall be submitted, it is to be made a special order, to be disposed of in advance of all other business.

THE extent of Southern disfranchisement seems to have been grossly exaggerated. The precise figures show that not over ten per cent of the whites are excluded in Virginia, in North Carolina, about nine per cent; in South Carolina about fourteen per cent; in Georgia about nine per cent; in the other States, unreported, the percentage is believed to be about the same, say not over one tenth and this is the utmost extent of Southern white disfranchisement for participation in the rebellion.

MR. PENDLETON has a part of the New Hampshire delegation, but does not control all of that from Ohio. The result will doubtless show that his strength in all the Northern delegations has been overrated, and that he cannot gain enough to make up for the daily desertions from him and his absurd theories. It seems now as if he is to get none of the Southern vote, which will go to Johnson and Hancock, mainly to the former. The New York politicians are alarmed by the headway which the Chase movement has made, and endeavor to check it by denouncing its expediency. The best explanation of the trimming tactics of the New York clique, and of their organ, the World, is to be found in the suggestion that they are working in Mr. Johnson's interest.

WE have been assured by leading Republicans that, so far from there being disaffection towards the county ticket on the north side of the river, it is likely to receive a solid and united vote. Regrets are freely expressed that such sterling Republicans as GEORGE R. RIDDLE and D. N. WHITE should have failed to secure a nomination; but it is also well understood why one or both of these gentlemen failed; and that if the north side delegates had united in their support, one or both of them would have been on the ticket to-day. Neither of these gentlemen, we are well assured, will have any part in the "mongrel" arrangement which is proposed for the opposition Assembly ticket. Such is not the character of GEORGE R. RIDDLE or DAVID N. WHITE, and this is another reason why we regret that they were not of our nominees this year. We hope they will be anon.

THE LONG PENDING ALABAMA CLAIMS are to furnish the objective point, it is said, of the English mission confided to Hon. REVERDY JOHNSON. It is believed that the two Governments have come to agree cordially, upon the mere point of pecuniary liability on the part of Great Britain for the damages sustained by American commerce, directly, in the aggressions of that Confederate ship. It is not supposed that the English Government would for a moment hesitate to accept a proposition to refer the simple investigation, as to the amount claimed in each specific case, to such Commission as might be agreed on. Such a proposition, involving merely the facts and omitting any consideration of the principles already discussed, proceeding upon the implied assumption that the liability, in the abstract, is not disputed, or, at least, that the question thereof is not to be reopened, could be made and would, it is believed, be accepted by the British Government within thirty days after our new Minister presents his credentials. It is worth considering whether, under the circumstances and in view of the discussions hitherto, it is better any longer to defer the substantial reparation due to our citizens, for the purpose of securing an agreement upon principles which, as things are, may be indefinitely postponed, and which can be settled with much greater facility and precision after the claims shall have been audited and paid. England is, if any reliance may be placed upon the indications of her public sentiment, prepared to pay every dollar of these claims as soon as the amounts can be properly ascertained, and, after these are paid, the technical principles involved, whether of international law or concerning her own domestic legislation, could be more easily settled. The question would then become one of mere abstract doctrine, which she would handle without any embarrassment resulting from unadjusted issues of fact. If she is willing to pay the money, we should take that, relying upon a still easier adjustment of the legal points afterward.

JOHNSON, THE COMING MAN.

The Democratic friends of a white man's government seems to be rapidly concentrating their strength upon General HANCOCK. Mr. PENDLETON is found to be no longer an available representative of that very considerable portion of the party; his financial theories are regarded as practically meaning repudiation, and, as such, make quite too heavy a load to be carried in this race. The bond and greenback question is dwindling in importance, while that of the suffrage is fast absorbing the attention of the politicians. Very naturally, it is regarded as the vital issue for decision in the New York Convention. In its bearings, present and future, upon the status, even upon the very continuance of their organization as a party, it addresses itself to the Democracy as the leading question of the hour. Apart from his financial hobby, PENDLETON would not be an unacceptable candidate upon the "white man's platform," but, as we have remarked, the other issue with which he is more prominently identified, being very distasteful to an influential section of the Democracy, renders him ineligible as the candidate. The opposition to the CHASE movement is therefore concentrating from all quarters upon HANCOCK.

The President and his friends continue to adhere to the Chief Justice, also attacking PENDLETON vigorously. The JOHNSON policy is clearly seen to be that of division, with the hope of his own nomination at last. And it is to be observed that the President's position as a Democratic candidate has been materially strengthened within six months past. He has succeeded in quieting all doubts, and removing all distrust, as to his sincere and thorough-going affiliation with the party. All his former political delinquences are heartily forgiven, and he has come to be regarded as a member of the party once more, in regular and full standing, recognized not only as such, but his name begins to be included, by the Democratic journals, in the list of candidates without a question of his orthodoxy. Six months ago, this would not have seemed possible to those who attentively observed the tone of the leading Democratic organs, but, to-day, no one can question the accuracy with which we state his present accord with and endorsement by the party.

Thus accepted, and promoted to a leadership in the Democratic ranks, Mr. JOHNSON is by no means an unlikely candidate for the nomination. He plays his cards with great shrewdness, operating with singular success against other candidates, as they rise, one after another, into especial prominence, in the meantime husbanding his own strength and gaining every day new and influential recruits. It does not suit his game to be put forward as an active competitor prior to the Convention; he is too smart to invite the combined attack from his rivals which would be inevitable. He plays for the odd trick, to win on the final lead, when the friends of other candidates discover that neither of their respective favorites can succeed, and that Mr. JOHNSON is the second choice of all. The Convention meets with no combinations expressly directed against him, and the friends of none of his rivals will be inclined to charge him with any invidious responsibilities for their several failures.

So far as he succeeds in identifying other candidates, each of them, with some great leading issue upon which the party is certain to be perilously divided, to that precise extent he improves his own prospect of coming in at the heel of the race as the inevitable choice of compromise. He plays off CHASE and Equal Suffrage against PENDLETON and Greenbacks, he puts up HANCOCK against both of them, as a favorite of the friends of a white man's government, and against Hancock he awakens all the Copperhead hostility, which, the next thing to this conquered rebellion, hates any man who won military honors in its suppression. Neither of these competitors, on their respective platforms, can secure a hearty national support from the party, while it is becoming evident that he can himself combine them all. For Andrew Johnson is to-day, the sole embodiment of the entire Democratic doctrine of reconstruction; the party has no other policy, but that which he conceived and promulgated, the Democracy accepting and supporting it faithfully to this date, without dotting an i or crossing a t. That policy constitutes the best electioneering platform for the present canvass; it certainly presents the most politic method for bridging over the embarrassments which are created by the suffrage question, North and South, enabling the party to slide off from a hot dispute upon principles to the vague but far safer ground which the administration policy has occupied. So, his nomination affords the best solution of the financial question. The platform would accept things as they are, and hide all pledges for the future under cloudy generalities which could be interpreted during the canvass as meaning anything to suit a particular locality. It would assert that the Treasury has been well managed and that it would be inexpedient to disturb a policy which has so far proved its merit by success.

With JOHNSON for their nominee, the party would feel strengthened in the canvass by all the influence of office and executive power. Harmonious everywhere in his favor and encouraged in the idea that it already holds, in some sort, possession of the government, the Democracy would feel the new life in its veins which only a hope of success can impart. There is not the remotest prospect that it could escape defeat in November, but there is a bare chance that, although defeated, it would not be forever disorganized. Had we time and space, we might speak of other considerations favorable to his nomination. We have said enough, however, to point out to our readers the present tendencies of Democratic Presidential intrigue.

REMOVAL OF THE CAPITOL.

Gen. LOGAN's resolution, for the appointment of a Commission to select a new site for the Capitol of the Union, contemplates its removal to the West, perhaps to the Valley of the Mississippi. Competent architects estimate the entire expense of taking down and removing all the public buildings at not over ten millions of dollars, and it is supposed that any State, which furnishes a new site for the Capitol, would meet all this expense, without its costing the government a dollar.

The mover of the resolution for the removal assigns, for reasons to justify the change, the disregard of law and the general and constant disloyalty of the population of Washington, and its vicinity. But there exist reasons still more potent to which Gen. LOGAN has not alluded. The atmosphere of Washington, at no season very salutary, becomes in the Summer very hot and oppressive. It is peculiarly so to representatives from the Middle and Northern States, so much so that the public business, in the latter half of each long session, is very often made to suffer, in the impatience of members to escape from confinement. The Capitol, if ever removed, should be rebuilt near enough to the Mississippi Valley to approximate the centre of population of the Union, and far enough to the North to ensure all the climatic conditions of health and comfort. A few hundred miles, more or less, added to the distance separating the seat of the National Government from those great Eastern cities which to-day control quite too much the making and administering of the laws, would prove of material advantage to the interests of the people. The reasons assigned by Gen. LOGAN are also entitled to great weight. A region which was maintained in subjection to the Federal authority only by Federal bayonets, which is inhabited to-day by people nine-tenths of whom remain as much as ever friends to the "lost cause," which caressed and instigated the assassin of LINCOLN, facilitated his escape, harbored him from pursuit and laments his wretched fate,—this is not the region which loyal Americans would select to-day for the seat of their National Government. The item of expense, therefore, is the sole one to be considered, in this proposition for a removal, and if the cost can be defrayed without any tax on the Treasury, we should support General LOGAN's proposition most heartily.

THE DEMOCRACY.

The party of Treason known as the Democratic party, finding it impossible to ride into power under the leadership of any of their own great lights of the VALLANDIGHAM, SEYMOUR or PENDLETON stripe, are now busy looking about for an old line Abolitionist and negro-suffrage man to head their Presidential ticket, and they think they have hit upon just the man they want in the person of S. P. CHASE, the great Republican sore-head, with the hope that, with the many Republican votes they say he will carry, the black vote and the Copperhead vote, he would ride into the White House. But this cannot be, for, in the first place, Republicans cannot be found supporting a renegade of their party running under Copperhead influence. They know that, even if it were possible that such an one could be elected, the patronage of the government would be conferred upon Copperheads and rebels.

But the Republicans are not to be deceived by any such transparent treachery. The Republicans know that all the Democrats care about is power and the stealings of office; they know that ever since A. J. became the President the Democratic party has had the stealings on a scale of magnitude unsurpassed in the history of the most corrupt government the sun of heaven ever shone upon. The people learnt long since not to trust the infernally corrupt Democratic party, and they stick to the habit, and as long as the sun shines, no earnest, sincere Republican will ever cast a vote for a Democrat. No; no! they are too well known. Republicans cannot quite forget the three great dark years of treason, rebellion and murder; they have not forgotten when they had to fight Democratic traitors at home, and Democratic traitors composing the rebel army in the front.

Who voted men and money to carry on the war and save the Government? Not Democrats. Who pronounced every act of our noble Congress and martyred President unconstitutional? Democrats. Who pronounced the war a failure? Democrats. Who exulted over Union disaster? Democrats. Who took the lives of Union men in the North for standing up for the Union? Democrats. Who stoned a boat going up the Monongahela river for demonstrations of rejoicing over the surrender of Richmond? Democrats. Who resisted the draft to blood, and refused the payment of war taxes? Democrats. Who called our "boys in blue" Lincoln hirelings? Democrats. Who got up the bloody riots in New York to defeat the Union cause? Bloody Democrats. Who assassinated the good Lincoln? A Democrat. Who tried to burn up our Northern cities? Democrats. Who tried to produce plague and pestilence in our cities? Democrats. This day we have just that same identical party—an organization just as corrupt as ever Jeff. Davis' organization was and infinitely meaner:—a party that would rather have Jeff. Davis for their candidate than any other living man, and whom they undoubtedly would have if they could.

The great Republican party whipped the Rebs and Copperheads combined, during the war, and propose to keep fighting on that line if it takes all summer.

The atrocious wickedness, corruption and ignorance of that party are only equalled by its unparalelled impudence.

The idea of such a party of treason coming out and asking the intelligent and patriotic people of America to intrust them again with the reins of Government, to go to their old work of deviltry, shows a degree of superlative impudence only equaled by Satan when he commanded the Saviour of the World to bow down and worship him.

The Democratic party may come out apparelled in the beautiful garments of Freedom and Negro Suffrage, and promise ever so much, but that party is too well known—It is known to keep bad company, bad hours and forty-rod whisky. Your office-seeking propensities brought on the war and came near destroying the government—entailing a vast debt upon us and upon our children's children—murdered a half million of our sons, brothers and fathers, and caused a sad wail of sorrow and mourning all over our land which has not yet ceased. Therefore, it is thought by the people to be exceedingly unsafe to place the government in the keeping of any such a graceless pack of blood-hounds, and we do not purpose trying any such silly experiment.

When you repent and have thrown off the old man and your filthy garments and put on the new, and when your wicked hearts have become changed, so that you can love your country and correct principle more than you do the stealings of office, it will be time enough then to intrust you.

Your party has a character as black as infamy to reform first, before the great loyal heart of the people will ever trust you again.

"Get thee behind me, Satan." H.
LAWRENCEVILLE, June 11th, 1868.

Democratic Doctrine.

Under this general head we find the following in different Democratic newspapers:

"Resolved, That we are opposed, both in principle and policy, to negro suffrage."—Ohio Democratic Resolutions, 1868.

"Resolved, That under the action of the State of South Carolina, heretofore taken, we recognize the colored population of the State as an intelligent element of the body politic; and as such, in person and property, entitled to full and equal protection under the State Constitution and laws. And that, as citizens of South Carolina, we declare our willingness, when we have the power, to grant them, with proper qualifications as to property and intelligence, the right of suffrage."—South Carolina Democratic Resolutions, 1868.

"Resolved, That the right of suffrage shall be limited to the white race in this country."—Illinois Democratic Resolutions, 1868.

"A very large torchlight procession of Democratic Niggers are marching through the streets while I write. I have addressed an immense audience in the Court House Square—the largest proportion being negroes. They carried transparencies with most appropriate Democratic mottoes. Proclaim it throughout Upper Georgia that everything is safe—honor safe, peace secured, Democracy triumphant."—Letter of D. B. Hill, a leading Democrat in Georgia, April 11, 1868.

"We have a word for our colored citizens who are anxious to vote for Governor at the ensuing election. Your professed friends have nominated a man of the name of Bullock for that office, and it is right that you should know beforehand what sort of a man he is who solicits your suffrages."—Savannah News, (Democratic,) April, 1868.

"You pays your money and you takes your choice."

BOOTH and Surratt Democracy—the Democracy which in Pennsylvania, up in the coal regions, forges naturalization papers deftly stained with coffee-grounds, and murders Irish witnesses who dare to tell the truth—in the South works more openly and defiantly, blazoning its felony through the columns of a treasonable press. The Columbus (Ga.) Sun, published in the city where a few weeks ago the Hon. Mr. Ashburn was assassinated at midnight by a gang of well-dressed gentlemen, uttered the following threat the day before receiving the news of the nomination of General Grant at Chicago: 'We don't know who will be nominated; we don't care who may be. The unhappy wretch who may be fallen upon will never wear Presidential robes.' We commend it to the consciences of any respectable and law abiding citizens who propose to vote the Democratic ticket.—Press.

THERE is not a benevolent institution in Boston which does that city more credit than the "Young Women's Home." Two adjoining houses in Beach street were bought for $28,000, and $20,000 more were expended in fitting them for this object, under the direction of the "Young Women's Christian Association." There is room for about seventy permanent lodgers. They are respectable persons, from fifteen to twenty-five years old, such as are employed in shops or stores, most of them without homes or relatives in the city, and here they find a safe and pleasant home, with agreeable companions, orderly habits and good influences. There is a restaurant in the house, with a moderate bill of fare, so that the whole weekly expense of the lodging, meals and washing, is about three dollars and fifty cents.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

A Sturgeon was caught two weeks since, near Painesville, Ohio, which measured six feet two inches, and weighed one hundred and sixteen pounds.

Passed Through.—The Saengerbund, from New York City, passed through our city yesterday on a special train bound for Chicago. It is said that there are several late importations from Germany among them.

An effort is being made to have the Nicolson pavement put down on that portion of Second street now being prepared for paving. The Bridge Company and some of the South Side rolling mill owners are moving in the matter.

Street Closed.—In consequence of the repairs and other improvements in progress on Second street, that thoroughfare, from Try street eastwardly, is at present closed to travel, by direction of Street Commissioner McFaden.

Accident.—A workman engaged in tearing down the old Garrison Foundry, on Smithfield street, fell from the roof yesterday to the ground, a distance of some twenty-five feet. He sustained serious, though not fatal injuries.

Died of His Injuries—George Page, the boy who was scalded in Manchester Monday evening, an account of which we published yesterday, died of his injuries yesterday evening. The Coroner will hold an inquest on the body this morning.

The Question whether a husband can be made to contribute to the support of his wife when she refuses to domicile with him, but chooses rather to sojourn with her relatives, will come up for argument in the Quarter Sessions on Friday. The particular case is one of the sort where the respondent pleads against marrying a whole family.

Fatal Fall from a Cherry Tree—William Peters, carpenter, unmarried, aged twenty-seven years was accidentally killed last evening, at his place of residence, on Webster street, Allegheny city, by falling from a cherry tree. He had returned from work a short time previous and ascended the tree for the purpose of regaling himself with the fruit. The Coroner was notified and will hold an inquest to-day.

Rag Pickers at War.—For several days past a little war has been raging between sundry rag pickers, and yesterday a pair of them met on Fourth street, a short distance below the Mayor's office, when a battle ensued. Henry Barr alleges that John Hack struck him with a bar of iron, knocked him down and beat him in a brutal manner. He made information before Alderman Thomas, charging Hack with assault and battery. Hack was arrested and held for a hearing.

THE COURTS.

Important Land Case—2,200 Acres at Sewickley in Dispute.

The case of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for use vs. The Marchioness de Casa Yrujo, occupied the attention of the Court of Common Pleas (Judge Mellon) for the greater part of yesterday.

From the testimony it appears that Gov. Thomas McKean, formerly Chief Justice of Pennsylvania, owned at one time a body of land lying in the vicinity of Sewickley, in this county, consisting of 2,200 acres, which by deed, ratified by will, he gave to his daughter, Sarah, who had intermarried with Marquis de Casa Yrujo, at that time (at the close of the last century) Minister Plenipotentiary from the Court of Madrid to Washington. The property has for a number of years been held for a certain Madame Peirrard, but the opinion obtained, and strengthened with time, that Madame P. was a myth, and that the Marchioness was for a long time deceased, intestate, without issue or other kindred. This opinion finally took head and resulted in proceedings in escheat. An inquest being held, it was found that the land had escheated to the Commonwealth. In these proceedings Madame Peirrard was not heard of. If she existed at all, she was in Spain, and efforts to communicate with her proved unavailing.

Finally, however, Louis de Potestad, First Secretary of the Spanish Legation at Washington, was invested with due authority from Madame P. and her husband. A traverse of the finding of the inquisition was filed on her behalf, a similar traverse on behalf of collateral heirs having already been filed, and on Monday the issues raised by the traverses were decided.

Col. Chapman Biddle, of Philadelphia, and S. Schoyer, Jr., Esq., of this city, for Madame Péirrard, offered evidence to prove the marriage of the Marchioness, and the the birth of two children, one of whom is now Madame Péirrard. The will of the Marchioness devising the land to Madame Péirrard, duly proved according to the laws of Spain, and the present existence of that lady, was also established. The testimony was conclusive. Robert Woods, Esq., also offered evidence to prove that the collateral heirs were also in existence.

Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., appeared for the Commonwealth.

Verdicts in favor of the traverses and against the Commonwealth were entered.

The lands in controversy are very valuable, and for the last two years have been in the hands of the Deputy Escheater, S. P. Ross, Esq., who has received the rentals.

Injunction Granted.

In the Court of Common Pleas, yesterday, on petition presented by John H. Hampton, Esq., on behalf of the West Pennsylvania Railroad Company, a preliminary injunction was granted by Judge Mellon, restraining Allegheny City, John Megraw, Street Commissioner, and Arthur Hobson, contractor, from interfering with a stone wall erected in East Lane. Bond given in $2,000.

Viewers Appointed.

In the case of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railroad Co. vs. Thos. B. Hamilton, Esq., guardian, the Common Pleas Court yesterday appointed Charles H. Paulson, George R. White, James Herdman, Samuel Hartman, John Torrens, George Fortune and James W. Hall as viewers to assess damages for property in West and South Pittsburgh, appropriated by the Railroad Company.

Common Pleas—Judge Sterrett.

In the case of the American Iron Company vs. James O'Connor, the jury found in favor of plaintiff for $683.37.

On motion of S. Schoyer, Jr., Esq., Chapman Biddell, Esq., was admitted to the bar.

James K. Mellon vs. David Hutchinson. Action for debt. On trial.

Following is the trial list for to-day:

CASE RESUMED.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Geo. W. Cable, a lad over fourteen years of age, indicted for the larceny of $770 from Reinhart Buck, at the Allegheny City Railroad depot, in November last, was resumed. The evidence having been concluded, R. S. Morrison, Esq., addressed the jury for the defense, and W. C. Moreland, Esq., made the argument for the prosecution. As the Court was about to charge the jury the defendant, who was seated in the prisoner's box, became excited and strongly asseverated his innocence, saying "Before God I'm innocent; I never took a cent of that man's money," and made use of like expressions as the jury were retiring to deliberate upon their verdict. The Court checked him, remarking that such conduct was calculated rather to prejudice than help his case. The jury came into Court at half-past two, and stating that they could not agree, were discharged.

SELLING LIQUOR ON SUNDAY.

Joseph F. D. Keating, hotel keeper at Perrysville, was placed on trial for selling liquor on Sunday, September 8th, 1867. Officer Higby testified to the fact of liquor being drank on the premises on the day stated; it was furnished by a man who was acting in the capacity of bar-keeper; witness did not see Mr. Keating about the premises at the time. A Mrs. Smith, colored, testified that she and her husband were employed at the Keating's hotel, and that she left on the 3d of May, 1867, to go east, and had not been at Keating's since. There being a count in the indictment charging the defendant with knowingly allowing liquor to be drank on his premises, Col. Duff, District Attorney, proposed to ask witness as to her knowledge whether the bar was kept open on Sundays during her residence at Keating's hotel. Mr. Cochran, for the defense, objected, but the Court overruled the objection. Witness could not say positively whether or not liquor was sold on the Sabbath day; the bar room was closed on Sundays; on one occasion, Easter Sunday, Mr. Keating came into the kitchen with a pitcher of ale and gave her a drink of it; parties came on Sundays for meals, but there was no liquor served in the dining-room; witness could not say what transpired in the bar-room, her duties being confined to the kitchen. This was all the evidence in the case. It was held by the Court that there could be no conviction on the first count, charging the defendant with having sold liquor on a specific day, in the absence of any evidence that the liquor was furnished with the knowledge of defendant or that he directed or caused it to be furnished. The evidence offered on the second count did not seem sufficient to establish, inferentially, the knowledge or consent requisite to sustain the first count.

Col. Duff thought, and so argued, there was sufficient in the case to justify conviction. True, it had not been shown that the defendant was present at the time of the sale of the liquor, neither in the bar nor on the premises, the witness stating that he did not observe him; but the defendant had not seen fit to show the fact that he was not at home on that day, and whether he was really absent or not was a matter for the consideration of the jury; they could not infer that he was not present, or that the liquor was sold without his knowledge, because the witness did not see him at the time he got the liquor. The jury found a verdict of not guilty, defendant to pay the costs.

SENT TO THE REFUGE.

Ed. Green, a colored lad, aged fourteen years, plead guilty to the larceny of a watch, and was committed to the House of Refuge.

LARCENY OF A HORSE.

John Christy was arraigned on a charge of stealing a horse. John Mitchell, formerly residing near Pulaski, Lawrence county, testified that on the night of the 4th of March last two horses were stolen from him. One of them he recovered the same night, and the other some time after in Allegheny City, in charge of the Chief of Police. Mr. Wm. Bowden, the Chief of Police, testified he found the horse in possession of John W. Haney, butcher, living in Allegheny. Mr. Haney testified he purchased the horse from the defendant, during the first week in March, the price agreed upon being $125. The testimony showed that the horse was taken on the evening of the 4th of March, and on the afternoon of the next day sold to Mr. Haney. The distance from the place where the horse was stolen to Allegheny City is something over fifty miles, indicating the capacity of the horse for travel. The jury found a verdict of guilty. The defendant was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. The Court said that had the indictment been for horse-stealing, instead of simply for larceny, the sentence would have been more severe.

A NUISANCE CASE.

Christopher Weaver and John Hoskin were placed on trial on an indictment charging them with nuisance, found on complaint of Thomas Burgess. It was alleged that the defendants erected upon Alfred street, a public highway in Wilkins township, a wooden fence, five feet high and upwards of twelve hundred feet in length, by which said thoroughfare or highway is greatly encroached upon, narrowed and straitened, to the great damage and common nuisance of all good citizens there passing and repassing. It appeared that an old fence had been replaced by one more substantial, and for the prosecution the testimony was that the new fence is so built that the street has been narrowed considerably from its proper width, twenty-five feet, also that in the new fence there is a "crook" which did not exist in the old fence, and that at the point where the "crook" is the fence encroaches on the street some two or three feet. The defense denied the encroachment. It appeared that there was some ill-feeling between the prosecutor and Mr. James W. Woodwell, the owner of the property on the line of the road or street in question, out of which bad feeling the prosecution originated. Mr. Woodwell testified that he owned property on both sides of the street, and that it was now twenty-five feet four inches in width, and perfectly straight, with no "crook" as stated; also that the fence was built as nearly upon the proper line as it was possible for man to build it. The case was not concluded at adjournment.

Chief Justice Chase and the Democratic Nomination.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The Herald's Richmond special says he is authorized to state that Chief Justice Chase will accept the Democratic nomination on a platform embodying universal suffrage. The Chief Justice is now in Richmond, and receives numerous letters daily from Republicans in the North, offering to co-operate with the Democratic party in case he is the nominee, and the platform is of the kind set forth.

Henry A. Wise and the Chief Justice visited the African Church in Richmond together on Sunday, and heard divine service.

The World has another article to-day discarding Chase as a Democratic candidate for the Presidency, which creates considerable excitement, especially as the National Executive Committee meets in that office every day.

—Bishop Eastman has resigned the Rectorship of Trinity Church, Boston, having filled the office nearly twenty-six years.

CONVALESCENCE.

After a disease has been conquered, there is still the weakness that it leaves behind it to be removed. Convalescence is a tedious affair. If the enfeebled and flaccid muscles, the shattered nerves, the thin and watery blood could speak, they would cry for help. In too many cases such help as is given them is not of the right kind. The fiery stimulants of commerce do harm. They kindle a temporary flame, which is a mockery. Their effect passes, and the last state of him who uses them is worse than the first. Not such is the effect of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. There is no drawback to its toning properties. It has been found THE GREAT MEDICINE OF THE AGE for sustaining and bracing up the enfeebled constitution no matter how much debilitated as it not only bestows strength, but soothes the nervous system and allays all excitement of the brain. While this excellent preparation possesses such effective properties, it is perfectly safe and is agreeable to the taste. Attempts have been made to rival it. They have failed. Can it be necessary to say why they have failed? Ask the recovered dyspeptics, billous sufferers, victims of fever and ague and nervous subjects who have experienced its effects what they think of it. Ask them, and be guided by what they say. As a household medicine it is available at all times in cases of indigestion; billous and other fevers, and all diseases arising from an impure condition of the stomach or liver.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculair mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, I—— C——.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FOUND.

That after repeated trials of other remedies, Roback's Stomach Bitters, Blood Purifier and Blood Pills are the best medicines extant to cure the diseases for which they are recommended.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

PILES.

There is no medicine in use so efficacous as Dr. Roback's Blood Purifier and Blood Pills for the permanent cure of Blind or Bleeding Piles; they strike at the root of disease, thereby removing the cause.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

TEMPERANCE.

There is, perhaps, no one thing that has done so much to promote the cause of temperance as that gentle stimulating tonic, Roback's Stomach Bitters; they strengthen and invigorate without producing the ill effects of alcoholic stimulants.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

LIVER PILLS

Are Pills that have a direct and powerful action on the liver, and relieve any inactivity or congested state of that all important organ upon which depends the whole process of digestion. The importance, then, of procuring a Pill that shall have such direct action without the ill effects of mercury, is manifest to every one; such Pills are Roback's Blood Pills; they are warranted purely vegetable, and can with certainty be relied upon, and are safe at all times.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

INDIGESTION

Is but another name for Dyspepsia, and the parent of many ills. Roback's Stomach Bitters taken in wine-glass-full doses, directly after each meal, will surely effect a permanent cure. Do not take our word for it, but try them.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

NIGHT MARE

Is one of the many diseases of which Dyspepsia is the parent. To effect a cure persons should avoid hearty food at night, and take a wine glass-full of Roback's Stomach Bitters on retiring to bed.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

RENOVATE.

During the Spring months it is one of the regular household duties to renovate, and, in the multiplicity of other duties one's own self is, in a great measure, overlooked; thousands of valuable lives might be prolonged, and many doubtless saved from premature graves by thoroughly renovating the system with Dr. Roback's Blood Pills, Stomach Bitters and Blood Purifier.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

MELANCHOLY

Is one of the many disorders of the nervous system, arising from a low state of the constitutional health or severe prostration after long continued sickness, and requires invigorating remedies like Roback's Stomach Bitters to restore the nerves to their natural vitality.

Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

WHO SELLS THEM?

The Agents for the sale of ROBACK'S BLOOD PILLS, STOMACH BITTERS and BLOOD PURIFIER are all Druggists everywhere.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, June 16, 1868.

Gold is still very firm, and has slightly advanced to-day from 140⅜ to 140⅝. Transactions are very limited and importers delay purchasing until after July next, when it is expected that gold will decline a few points. The brokers and speculators in the gold exchange are operating for a rise and the limited amount of cash gold on the market and the small reserve with banks, enables them to have their own prices. Heavy as the payments may be on July next the surplus gold on the market available for speculation will be very small. Some fifteen to twenty million dollars will go to the bank vaults to replace what has been taken out lately; from seven to eight millions will have to be shipped to Europe for dividends, and coupons due, and the U. S. Treasury will receive the balance for goods now held in bond. Should Sherman's currency bill pass the house there would be a general scramble for gold, in such a case bonds would materially decline in Europe, and a general rise in prices of commodities any fancy articles would be unavoidable.

Government bonds advanced still more to-day, but quotation were not sustained in the afternoon, although the market remained firm. There is more disposition to sell bonds, especially seven-thirties of the matured series of which there is a large amount still outstanding after July first, those bonds will no longer be convertible, and the entire premium they now command, about ten per cent. will be a loss to the holder.

Stocks are unchanged and rather dull, although prices are well sustained. North Western shares are strong, and have slightly advanced. Express stocks are dull and lower. Merchants Union is sustained, through a rumor that there will be a dividend in July, but strange to say, some of those who ought to know are selling stock.

Mining shares are active, and quite a large business is done in them. It was predicted in this paper about a month ago, when Mining shares were so depressed, that nobody would even have acknowledged ownership to a certificate that there was a good time coming for holders of these securities. Aside from the real value of these stocks, the high priced of Railroad shares alone would lead parties under an easy money market to buy up the cheap Mining shares, so much depressed during the last two years.

Money is easier, but only for A 1 borrowers. Business dull.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 140⅝; 1881 bonds, 117¼; 1862 5-20s, 112⅞; 1864 do, 110¾; 1865 do, 110⅝; Consols, 113⅜; 10-40s, 106¼; 7-30s, 109⅝.

Railroads—Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 88¼; Fort Wayne, 111¼; North Western, common 70¼; North Western—preferred, 83⅜; New York Central, 134¼; Erie, 69⅜; Old Southern, 89⅞; Ohio & Mississippi, 29⅜; Merchants Union Express, 28⅛; Western Union Telegraph, 37⅜. Mining Shares—Corydon, 35; Quartz Hill, 130.

—In 1834 there was $95,000,000 of paper money in circulation in the United States; in 1843, $59,000,000; in 1854, $205,000,000; in 1864, $636,000,000; in 1868, $757,000,000. Including bank reserves, the total circulation of coin and paper never exceeded $400,000,000 before the war. Excluding the bank reserves, the amount was never much above $300,000,000. During the twenty-six years preceding the war, the average bank circulation was $130,000,000. It cannot be successfully controverted that the gold, silver, and paper used as money in this country, at this time, amounts to $1,000,000,000. If we substract from this amount our bank reserves—which amounted on the 1st of January last to $162,500,000, and also the cash in the National Treasury, which at that time amounted to $134,000,000—we still have left in active circulation more than $700,000,000.

—The schedules for paying the interest due on the first of July, amounting to $33,000,000, have been completed, and owing to the large amount which is to be paid out the Government will begin the disbursement at once.

—Of the recent decline in Government securities in New York, the Commercial Advertiser, of Friday evening, says:

> The further decline of Five Twenties at London has a depressing effect upon the market here.
>
> At the same time, there are speculative influences at work for depressing prices, with a view to a fresh advance movement. The movement appears to include the simultaneous manipulation of the London bond market, and of the gold market.
>
> The trick is one that has been successfully played before; and may succeed again if the holders of bonds allow themselves to be frightened into selling, or if speculators are seduced into selling bonds or gold "short."

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

Gold, 140½; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 117½; 5-20's, 1862, 112⅞; 5-20's, 1864, 110¾; 5-20's, 1865, 110⅞; 10-40's, 106¼; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 113¾; 5-20's, January and July, '67 114; June 7-30's, 109⅞; July 7-30's, 109⅞; May Comp., 1865, 119,-30.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, June 16, 1868.

The general markets continue very dull and neglected with but little prospect at present of any improvement. As the impression is general that the value of almost everything, particularly Flour and Grain, will soon depreciate very materially, the policy of dealers is to buy as little as possible and keep down stocks to the very lowest pitch; to illustrate, we are cognizant of a commission merchant who went among all the principal dealers in Flour the other day, to sell a consignment of Flour, and notwithstanding he was willing to make concessions, he was not only unable to sell, but only got a single bid, and it was two or three dollars per barrel below the market price for that grade of Flour. So timid are operators that they will not buy unless very large inducements are held out, and this being the case we do not think any of our dealers will be picked up very badly let the price be what it may.

BUTTER—Is in rather better demand, and as the arrivals continue light, prices are tending upward; we now quote prime to choice fresh packed at 25 to 27c.

EGGS—In steady demand, and we can report regular sales at 28 to 30c.

HAY—The market continues very dull, and prices are barely maintained; sales at Allegheny Diamond Scales of 42 loads at $16 to $21 per ton.

STRAW—Sales 5 loads at $12 to $15.

POTATOES—Continue very dull, and we continue to quote at $1,25 to $1,30 for small lots of Peach Blows, in store. New crops are quoted at $7 to $7 50 per bbl.

GRAIN—Winter Wheat is quiet and unchanged at $2,25 to $2,30 for Red, and 5 to 8c higher for White. Corn appears to be more active; sale of 1 car, in bulk, at $1; 1 do do, in Ear, at $1,06; 2 cars prime Yellow Ear at $1,08; prime Shelled may be quoted at $1,05. Oats quiet but unchanged; sales on wharf and track at 78 to 79c and 80c, and the usual advance for small lots in store. Rye is quiet, with but little offering and but little wanted; sales at $1,50, some dealers asking $1,55. No movement in Barley and none in market.

DRIEDFRUIT—Is very dull, especially that of an inferior quality, which can scarcely be sold at any price. We continue to quote at 6 to 7c for choice Apples, and 11½ to 12½c for Peaches.

ASHES—Quiet and unchanged at 4½ to 5c for common and refined Soda Ash, and 11c for Pearls.

PIG LEAD—Quoted at 11c.

HOMINY—Is dull, with small sales in store at $6,25 to $6,50.

FISH—Sales of Lake Herring at $5, and White Fish at $8,50 to $9.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged; small jobbing sales at 13½c for Shoulders; 15¼ to 15¾ for Ribbed, and 17½ to 18c for Clear Sides; 17¼ to 17½c for Plain Hams, and 19½c to 20c for Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 18 to 18½c for prime kettle rendered. Dried Beef, 22 to 23c. Mess Pork, $28 to $28,50.

LBRD OIL—Is quiet and unchanged at $1,23 to $1,25 for No. 2, and $1,43 to $1,45 for No. 1.

FLOUR—Continues quiet and dull though not quotably lower; we continue to quote Spring Wheat at $10 to $10,50; $11,25 to $11,75 for Winter Wheat, and $14 to $15 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $9,50 to $9,75.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, June 16, 1868.

CRUDE—The Crude market was less active to-day, and, aparently less excited and a little easier, though the offerings continue light, and there is no disposition manifested to make concessions in order to effect sales. We now quote spot oil at 13c, with sales of 400 bbls reported at 12¾c, and 2,000 bbls first water at 13c. While, as will be seen, there was a small sale effected at 12¾c, we do not thing that a large amount could have been had at that figure, and this seemed to be the feeling of dealers generally. Oil City telegrams, late this afternoon, report sales as having been made on the creek to-day at $5,30 to $5,60, according to location, while at the same time we heard it reported that a Pittsburgh speculator had sold at Oil City at $5,25. We are cognizant of spot oil having been offered to-day at 13c, without finding buyers, though nothing less would have bought it. There is a very strong "bull" here from Oil City, and, as we might expect, he is doing all in his power to "bull" the market; we do not find fault with him for so doing, as it is to his interest to put oil up to the very highest notch, and then, if possible, give it another shove and make it go still further. The "bears" have no compunctions about taking an advantage whenever the opportunity offers, and we believe in according the same privilege to the other side. (The sale of 5,000 bbls reported at 13½c yesterday could not properly be called a spot sale; it was a resale of buyers option, all the year, contract, the difference paid in cash.)

REFINED—There was a fair business done in bonded oil to-day, and while the market was steady, there was less excitement, and prices have undergone no quotable change, though the tendency if anything, is upward. The sales were as follows: 1000 bbls buyers option, all year, (a resale of contract) at 34c; 500 1st to 15th July, at 32c; 500 1st to 15th August at 33c; 1000 for last half June at 31½c; 500 each, August to December, at 33c; 1000 last half July at 32; and 1000 last half August at 33c. We can also report a sale of 500 bbls Benzole to be delivered within thirly days; sellers option, at 14.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

OUR RAILROADS.

EDITORS' GAZETTE:—For the past, ever so long, your citizens have been talking a good deal about Railroads. The editors who first talked, in print, have generally given place to others; and those of the present day appear to know little of the past. You are all to be more or less inclined to defend your local business men, right or wrong, in any controversy with our Railroads; and forget that the truest friendship often requires a rigid search after faults, not in the opposition bht in the ally. If our Railroad corporations are as mindful of the local interests of our city as many assert, a remedy should be found, at all hazards, and at any cost; and, in preparing for any contest, it is of the first importance to find all the defects in our weapons and means of defence—in other words, to be sure you are right before going forward very rapidly.

It is probable I am the only person living who has tried to edit a paper in Pittsburgh, and live nine miles out, and before the days of railroads; who has, time and again, left proof-sheets unread at three o'clock on a winter afternoon to reach home before dark; and so, am alone in estimating, at their full value, the local advantages of our iron ways. I was familiar with the opposition made by our farmers to making the canal, because it would bring down the prices of horses and oats. When it was made our citizens opposed its extension to the river, and insisted that all the freight it brought should be unloaded at the corner of Liberty and Wayne streets, and drayed down Wood street, to accommodate draymen. Any one who can remember the endless procession of drays and their deafening rattle, may be able to compare that nuisance with the almost noiseless and occasional inconvenience of a train of cars on Liberty street.

It is proposed now to take up the track on that street; and can any one tell how the freight is to be taken from the wharf to the outer depot, and vice versa, unless by drays? Then, has any one counted the blockades and locked wheels, the shouting and swearing of draymen, and the imminent risk of life and limbs, which every man, woman and child must encounter at every crossing? Or is it seriously proposed to cut the jugular vein of traffic between the Ohio and the Atlantic seaboard? This certainly would be the effect in taking up those rails, or so it appears to me. Shippers along the Ohio would not incur the extra cost of drayage even if our citizens were willing to endure the nuisance of the drays.

In the early days of the Pennsylvania Central, the cost of drayage, cooperage, &c., on through freight was two dollars per ton, at Pittsburgh. President Thompson concluded that this tax must cut off about nine-tenths of the freight which might be brought to his road, if this was brought down to the lowest figure. He estimated that it could be passed through at seventy-five cents per ton; and that, at this rate, he could successfully compete with the Lake roads. He came and invited the commission merchants to meet him. They met at the Monongahela House, in the evening, consulted, and, he thought, they had come almost to a mutual agreement; but they were to give him a definite answer next morning. Next morning they informed him that it was his business to manage the Railroad, their's to fix commission rates. He established the old Taaffe firm, which passed freight through at seventy-five cents per ton, and afterwards another which reduced it to sixty-two cents. Of course, shippers sent through these houses, and our commission merchants complained of "the monopoly." But they had refused to cooperate with the road, and it became a question whether the trade should be driven around Pittsburgh, or taken through at rates which would permit competition with other routes. It may have been a loss to a few merchants, but even they could not have been permanently benefitted by a tax injurious to the general interests of the city.

The fact that citizens of Pittsburgh have acted against the general interests, in seeking to foster their own particular business, in antagonism to the spirit of progress leads me to believe that there is something wrong here, in the want of harmony between Pittsburgh and our Railroads. Complaints, and paper protests are not business like; and if there is danger of Pittsburgh being injured by any agreement between our western lines, why do not our property holders, whose interests are at stake, join hands and buy enough stock in one of the roads to control it, and ensure competition? Men who own land valued at $3,000 per acre, and taxed at $30, should see to it that the city on whose growth the value of their land depends, is not strangled by a Railroad Company.

JANE G. SWISSHELM.

SOME EASTERN MANUFACTURES.

TROY, N. Y. June 13.

EDITORS GAZETTE: A short trip East enables me to note some things likely to interest our manufactures at home.

Few cities are more exclusively industrial than this. The Hudson river and several other large streams, some with a fall of more than two hundred feet afford abundant water powers at numerous convenient localities, driving the machinery of many kinds of factories and mills. Among these is the largest of three rolling mills owned by Burden & Sons. A single water wheel sixty feet in diameter receiving the water of the Wynantskill into its buckets of twenty-two feet in length by six feet in depth, drives the whole establishment of eight trains of rolls, spike factory, horse shoe factory, machine shop, and all the other machinery of a first-class iron works, it easily exerting one thousand horse power. This wheel was designed by the senior proprietor, Henry Burden, whose inventions of iron working machinery are so well known. Within the recollection of some of our not very old mechanics he was in Pittsburgh endeavoring to introduce his most important invention, the "Rotary Squeezer," now in universal use. At first he was sadly baffled by the breaking of his machinery, often by the puddlers crowding into it balls of iron from their furnaces too large and hard for its size and strength. By increasing its size and improving its proportions, but still retaining its principle of operation unaltered, he overcame all difficulties, and the old trip hammer with the terrible labor attending its use has been almost wholly abandoned.

Almost simultaneously with the first use of railroads in this country Mr. Burden invented his machinery for making railroad spikes, which has ever since been an important branch of his business. The largest product of his works, however, is horse shoes, made upon entirely automatic machines, of wonderful ingenuity and completeness, by one operation and at the same heat as that with which the bar was rolled. The hot bar from the rolls is fed continuously into the machines, cut off, bent round a die, on one roll flattened and hauled by a die on another roll "mashing" into the first; the shoe still sticking to the first die is next creased and countersunk by a die on a third roll; then drops between two flat surfaces, which straighten it, and from them upon an endless belt of jointed iron plates which conveys it away. All this is done at a speed of sixty per minute. There are six of these machines sitting over the one conveyer belt, each occupying less room than a common thrashing machine, but each capable of making iron into shoes as fast as a train of rolls can make the bars.

Besides the works already described, Burden & Sons have two steam rolling mills and two large and very complete smelting furnaces. The furnaces making over seventy tons per day out of ore principally from Vermont. This firm employs fourteen hundred men.

Another large iron works is that of Corning, Winslow & Co. Besides merchant iron, they make large amounts of railroad chairs, axles, &c. They have evidently been very enterprising formerly, but are now letting their rivals get far ahead of them in improvements, while they adhere to appliances which are behind the age. By the way this is a fault which is sharply charged upon the iron men of Pittsburgh by one of their confreres here. "No where," says he, "are natural advantages discounted at such a ruinous rate as in Pittsburgh, and these alone enable her to grow rich making iron by such brutish methods;" and then went on to instance the case of single puddling furnaces without blast—failure to superheat steam, and so on, until from his postulates one would infer Pittsburgh to be as much in the dark intellectually as physically.

The other great iron firm here is Griswold & Co., of the Rennsalaer Iron Works. This firm and Mr. Morrell, of the Cambria Works, Johnstown, Pa., jointly own the various patents in this country for making Bessemer steel, and have been making it here with complete success. The only other Bessemer works in this country is at Harrisburg, and it is subsidiary to Griswold & Co. Here they have two converters, two of them holding five tons each, equivalent to a capacity of twenty tons each. Only one converter is now in operation, while blowing engines are being completed for the others. A forge for the ingots, with one of Sellers' largest steam hammers, is nearly completed. A large new steel rolling mill, better planned than any rolling mill I have seen, is partly in operation. It is intended principally for rolling steel rails, and will go far to supercede their importation, which is to be the more wished, since the steel rails sent to this country are not so reliable as those retained in England. I have myself noticed several instances of sudden breaking of steel rails, and on inquiry found it was not uncommon. Whilst this is so, their superiority to iron will mainly consist in their wearing longer.

The coal used here is brought by the Deleware and Hudson canal, mostly from Luzerne county Pa., the ore from Vermont, Lake Champlain, and other mining districts still more distant; yet with these natural draw backs. Troy very nearly attains the second place in the amount of her iron product.

This week all the iron mills at Troy, ceased to work because of a strike among the puddlers, who demand a rise—how much I neglected to ascertain. There is as yet no definite prospect of its ending soon. About three thousand men are thus thrown out of employment. Burden & Sons, and I think, the other firms carry heavy stocks, so that they will not soon suffer much. Several other eastern cities will afford similar topics for another letter.

PROBABLE HOMICIDE.

A Man Strikes His Wife on the Head with a Hatchet—The Perpetrator Arrested.

A most brutal and fiendish attempt at murder was made Monday evening by Peter McFarland, an Irishman, employed at the Keystone Iron Works as a puddler, upon Ann McFarland, his wife, which in all probability will yet prove fatal. The facts connected with the affair, so far as we have been able to ascertain them, are as follows: McFarland's wife was a widow when he married her, some time since, and was the mother of two children. She owned a house and lot on Soho street, near the Soho bridge, in which she has resided since her marriage. The husband is said to be a man of intemperate habits, possesses a violent temper when drunk, and is constitutionally lazy and worthless. He is a puddler by occupation, but does not work steady and squanders his money for whisky when at work, depending upon his wife to provide for his family, and abusing her if she fails to furnish him with such food as he desires.

Monday night, about nine o'clock, he come home drunk, and because the supper his wife (who had been out nearly all day) had prepared for him was not in exact accordance with his taste, he began to abuse her. She tolerated his abuse until forbearance ceased to be a virtue, when she called the police. The officers, being in the vicinity, heard her cries, and responded immediately. They were about to arrest McFarland, but refrained from so doing at the request of his wife, he promising not to abuse her any more. The officers then left, and McFarland followed them to the corner, watching until they had passed out of sight. He then returned to the room where his wife was and swore he would kill her, seizing a hatchet with which to carry his threat into execution. His wife, to prevent him from striking her with the hatchet, took hold of him and endeavored to wrench the weapon from his grasp, but failed, and after scuffling for some time he succeeded in striking her a blow on the right ear, almost severing it from her head. She then cried loudly for help, whereupon he struck her another blow on the back part of the head, the blade of the hatchet penetrating the skull its entire length. She then fell to the floor insensible, whereupon he struck her a third time over the left eye. Fearing that her cries for help had been heard and that the police would return, he left the house, without his coat and hat, evidently thinking that he had killed the woman. This, it appears, occurred between eleven and twelve o'clock, and in perhaps half an hour afterwards the wife returned to consciousness, got up, left the house and walked to Dr. Trex's office, which is some distance from where she was injured. The Doctor, after dressing her injuries, had her conveyed to Mercy Hospital, where she still remains under charge of Dr. M'Nally. The officers, it appears, had gone some distance from the house before the woman cried help, and consequently did not hear her cries. Officer McCurry, who was off duty and had retired for the night, was informed of what transpired by his son, who it appears works in a glass house in the neighborhood and while on his way home heard that a woman had been murdered. The officer very promptly got up and started for the scene. On his way he met officer Timmony, who was also off duty and going home, but when informed of the case he accompanied McCurry to the house. On arriving there they found a number of officers already around the house, the doors of which were fastened on the inside. Officer Timmony broke the door open, and in company with policeman McCurry searched the house. They found a hatchet covered with blood lying in one of the rooms, and discovered traces of blood in several places. They then went out and searched for him, and about half-past four o'clock in the morning arrested him at the foot of Soho street hid behind a pile of lumber. He was taken to the Mayor's office where an information for felonius assault and battery was preferred against him by officer Timmony, and the Mayor committed him to jail to await the result of the injuries of Mrs. McFarland.

Market House Difficulty.

John Wrigley, one of the constables of the Pittsburgh markets, made information before Alderman Humbert, yesterday, against Catharine Semarara, a country woman, for interfering with him in the discharge of his duties. It appears that another countrywoman, named Elizabeth Shaffer, had occupied a stand in the market on Monday, leaving her bench and other trappings over night, intending to occupy it again the next day. She was, however, forestalled in this arrangement by Mrs. Semarara, who took charge of the premises early next morning, throwing to one side the fixings of the former occupant. Mr. Wrigley, the constable being made acquainted with the facts, ordered Mrs. Semerara to vacate the stand in favor of Mrs. Shaffer, which she refused to do, and hence the information. After a hearing the matter was adjusted by defendant vacating and paying costs of the case.

International Bank of Franklin.

We notice that Col. James Bleakley is President and his son William J. Bleakly is Cashier of the International Bank, recently put in operation at Franklin, Pennsylvania, for the purpose of dealing in all kinds of securities, exchange and for collections throughout the oil regions and elsewhere. The well known integrity and ample means of the men who will conduct the affairs of this new Institution, will render it a very great and perfectly safe public convenience, well calculated to faciliate and extend the intercourse of this city with Franklin and the oil regions generally. Such Institutions ought to be more generally advertised in the Commercial papers.

This afternoon and evening.

Counterfeit Money Case.—Michael Murray bought a quantity of strawberries from a market gardener, named John Schreier, and gave a twenty dollar bill in payment, which proved to be a counterfeit. When informed of its character Murray refused to take it back, and Schreier not wishing to lose the money, brought suit for its recovery before Alderman Humbert. The case was heard and Murray discharged after paying costs and redeeming the bill.

Fruit, flowers and music at the Rink.

Temporary Track.—Workmen have been engaged for a few days past in laying a temporary track branching off from the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad across Western avenue to the West Commons. It is to be used for the purpose of running the dirt brought from along the line of railroad over on the Commons to level them up to the grade required by the Park Commissioners.

Coroner's Inquest.—Coroner Clawson held an inquest yesterday morning on the body of Lewis Hotz, who was drowned Sunday evening in Chartiers creek, near its junction with the Ohio river, an account of which we published yesterday. The jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning.

A Special Meeting—Joint Session—Election of City Officers for the Eastern District.

A special meeting of Allegheny Councils was held Tuesday evening, the 16th inst., for the election of officers in the Eastern District of the city, and the transaction of other special business.

Select Council.

Members present: Messrs. Black, Brown, Callery, English, Gwinner, Hall, Jahn, Krebs, Motheral, Myler, Patterson, J. C., Patterson, A., Phillips, Riddle, Reiter, Smith, A. D., President, McBrier.

On motion of Mr. Brown, Councils organization by calling Mr. Myler to the Chair.

Mr. Myler stated that the object of the meeting was to elect officers for the Eastern Division, (Duquesne Borough) and the Clerk was instructed to notify Common Council that Select Council was ready to meet them in joint session.

On motion of Mr. Brown, Select Council took up the following business acted on in Common Council, at last meeting, and not reached in Select Council:

Remonstrance against paving an alley between Third and O'Hara streets, in C. C. read and referred to Committee on Streets. S. C. concurred.

Report of the Committee on Markets; accepted in C. C. S. C. concurred.

Resolution relative to the Allegheny and Perrysville Plankroad. In C. C. read and adopted. In S. C. laid on table.

Petition for water in the Seventh ward. In C. C. read and referred to Committee on Water. S. C. concurred.

Resolution relative to fire apparatus in the Sixth ward. In C. C. referred to Committee on Engines. S. C. concurred.

Remonstrance against opening Sedgwick street. In S. C. referred to Committee on Streets. S. C. concurred.

Petition for water on Concord street, Seventh ward. In C. C. referred to Committees on Streets and Water. S. C. concurred.

Report of Committee on Gas, with resolution. In C. C. report accepted and resolution adopted. S. C. concurred.

Petition for change of grade on Hamblin street. In C. C. referred to Committee on Streets with power to act. In S. C. laid on the table.

Select Council then adjourned to Common Council chamber to meet in joint session for the election of officers for the Eighth ward.

The joint session being adjourned Select Council convened and resumed business.

Mr. A. D. Smith offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Mayor be requested to withhold his commissions from the officers recently elected in the Eighth ward until such time as they shall settle up the accounts with Duquesne borough and pay over the amount due said borough accruing from their offices to the City Treasurer.

Read and adopted. C. C. concurred.

Mr. Brown offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on common grounds be and are hereby instructed to confer with the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad in regard to building a stone wall from Western avenue to Ridge street or any other portion of West Commons on which said railroad abuts.

Read and adopted. Not reached in C. C.

Mr. McBrier submitted the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Mayor be requested to rigidly enforce the ordinance against throwing dirt and filth upon the common grounds, especially that portion recently graded by the Park Commission. Not reached in C. C.

Mr. A. D. Smith moved to amend by including streets and alleys.

The amendment was accepted and the resolution adopted.

Council adjourned.

Common Council.

Members present: Messrs. Comley, Dunham, Eyster, Fleming, Groetzinger, Hanna, Hastings, Hochuly, Kennedy, Megraw, M'Donald, M'Neill, Reynolds, Saints, Seidle, Tate, Voeghtly, Warner and President Slagle.

The Clerk was instructed to notify S. C. that Common Council was ready to meet them in joint session.

JOINT SESSION.

The Chair said the object of the meeting was to elect officers for the Eastern district of the city, or Eighth ward.

For Wharfmaster August Duffner was nominated and elected by acclamation.

The Chair stated that he was not aware of any ordinance restricting the number of Board Measurers for each ward. The custom had been to elect but one.

Mr. Callery moved that two such officers be elected in the Eighth ward.

Mr. Megraw thought it improper to give the Eighth ward the whole of the business incident to this office.

Mr. McNeil said this was timber measuring, and if it took three or four to do the work in former years, it would surely require two men.

Mr. A. Patterson thought it required much experience to measure timber, and he recommended that it be created a special office, entirely separate from that of Board Measurer.

Mr. Callery thought it simple justice that the two men now acting as Measurers be continued in the position, as they have entered on their duties for the present year.

The motion to elect two Measurers having been carried, John Williams and John McDowell were unanimously elected.

The election of a Bark Measurer for the Eighth ward was then taken up.

Mr. Hanna said there was no law authorizing the election of such an officer. The law only allowed one officer for the whole city.

The name of Jesse Sutton was then placed in nomination.

On motion, Mr. Sutton was elected by acclamation.

Mr. Megraw moved that Councils proceed to elect a Surveyor for Duquesne Borough.

The unfinished business from Select Council was then taken up and concurred in, except a resolution for the election of a Bark Inspector for the Eighth ward.

Mr. Hanna called for the yeas and nays on a motion to concur.

Mr. Megraw thought the resolution an insult to the sense of Common Council. The yeas and nays were called with the following result. Yeas 11, nays 8. The action of the Select Council was accordingly concurred in. The following business of Select Council was concurred in: The adoption of the profieles of Henderson and Fountain streets. The adoption of the grade of Jalappa and Water street. The extension of the fire alarm telegraph. The adoption of the report of the Committee on Finance of Duquense Borovgh. The resolution relative to the claim against the Pittsburgh Fort Waye & Chicago Railroad. Action on Sewarage question postponed until next meeting.

Adjourned.

White Sacques for $2,25—Bates & Bell's.

A Nuisance.—The Board of Health of Allegheny city are earnestly requested to examine the condition of a lot on Canal street, at the terminus of Arbuckle's alley, Fourth ward, Allegheny. The water from two or three hydrants is allowed to run in the lot, making a large mud puddle, which sends forth odors of a very unpleasant character.

The Pic-Nic held at McFarland's Grove yesterday was a grand success, being largely attended and passing off in a quiet and enjoyable manner. It is thought that it netted to the object for which held at least five hundred dollars.

Birmingham Club.—The Republicans of Birmingham will hold a meeting on Saturday evening, for the purpose of organizing a Grant and Colfax Club.

The Other Side.

In our edition yesterday we gave an account of the prosecution of W. B. Hollis, Life Insurance Agent, for obtaining a judgment note for $500 under false pretences. The facts as claimed by the defendant are as follows:

In June, 1867, while acting as agent for the American Life Insurance Company, he effected an insurance on the life of Christian Coleman for $3,000. When the policy was brought to Mr. Coleman he was unable to pay the premium, and for some time put Mr. Hollis off in various ways. At length as Mr. Hollis was obliged to report to his company he offered to pay the premium himself and take Mr. Coleman's personal note for the amount. The offer was accepted and Mr. Hollis did pay the premium and received from Mr. Coleman a note at twenty days for $126,50, which note was not paid at maturity, and in fact Mr. Coleman declined to pay it all. That note has not yet been paid.

Mr. Coleman died very suddenly. The administrator, William Coleman, made anxious inquiry of Mr. Hollis whether the insurance would be paid inasmuch as the deceased had failed to pay his note at maturity. Mr. Hollis informed him that it would, as the Company had received the premium from him. Thereupon Mr. C., feeling very generous over this unexpected accession to the estate, told Mr. Hollis that as he had paid the premium and been at all the expense and trouble in the matter he would make him a handsome present, and thereupon gave Mr. Hollis a note, which included the original note, for five hundred dollars, in the presence of witnesses. He gave it of his own accord. The note was deposited with a third party, to be paid when the policy was paid. The note has since been fraudulently obtained and not paid.

Mr. Hollis has since then left the American Life Insurance Company and is now working for another office, and there is evidently a strong flavor of malice in the prosecution thus commenced by the agent of the American, and Mr. Hollis is determined to carry the matter further than the original prosecutor intended and has given bail for his appearance at Court, waiving a hearing before Justice Ammon.

Railway Excursion Tickets.

We are very frequently asked for some explanation of the uniform omission by the railway companies terminating at this city to furnish excursion tickets for parties wishing to travel in the summer for health or pleasure. Why, for example, cannot a Pittsburgher, during the season, obtain an excursion ticket to Niagara Falls, Trenton Falls, Saratoga, Cape May, the Springs and watering-places generally? When June comes in, the Eastern roads regularly offer facilities of this sort to pleasure travel, including in their arrangements nearly every note-worthy place of resort in the United States or Canada, placing the fare at about half the regular rates, sometimes even less, frequently giving the option of a greater or less choice of routes, and good for say ten, twenty or thirty days. These facilities induce many people to make excursions, sometimes for health and more frequently only for pleasure, who could not afford to themselves the gratification except under a large reduction of the cost. A large number of those purchasing such tickets would not otherwise travel at all, and it is considered that the business thus obtained by the railways is really, therefore, an addition to, and not a loss from their regular patronage. It is suggested that such facilities, if supplied here, would be largely enjoyed by a pleasure-loving community like ours, and that the business which Pittsburgh could be made in this way to yield would swell a total really deserving of some effort on the part of companies to secure it. We submit the suggestion to all concerned.

Fair and Festival.

Yesterday, in the Sixth street Cumberland Presbyterian Church, was opened, under the auspices of the ladies of that congregation, a grand festival, which will be continued to-day. The Lecture room wherein is held the festival has been beautifully decorated with flowers, festoons and evergreens, and presents an elegant appearance. At the central booth will be found cool and refreshing lemonade, and ice cream, while on either side of the hall are tables where luscious strawberries and cream and beautiful boquets will be disposed of to the visitors by fair lady attendants. From twelve o'clock to three a dinner, which would please the most fastidious epicure, will be spread to-day, and in the evening, from six to nine, supper will be served. The attendance yesterday and last evening was quite large, and we trust there will be a general turnout to-day and evening. All will be guaranteed a pleasant and enjoyable time, while their pleasure will be sweetened by the knowledge that they are contributing to a worthy object.

Bates & Bell's for French bone corsets, at $1,00.

The Festival at the Rink.

What with the beautiful young ladies and fruit, flowers, music, fancy articles and plenty of room for the large crowd in attendance, the Rink last night was as attractive a place as could be found in either city. It is a pleasure to be waited on by charming ladies, particularly when they sell such delicious articles, and an especial delight attaches to all who go to the Rink now, for each cent spent goes towards lightening the burden which is bearing on a struggling church. All who can, should go, and all who know what awaits them do go, and do enjoy themselves when there. The same attractions will be at the Rink this afternoon and evening.

Shetland Shawls—all colors—Bates & Bell's.

Larceny.—One of the gentlemen boarders of Ann Shivelen, on High street, becoming indebted to his landlady, left a parcel of wearing apparel, valued at $10, as security for the payment of all arrearages. Michael McGee, forgetting the injunction of the eighth commandment, and without consultation with any person, appropriated the articles to his own use, which fact becoming known to Mrs. Shivelen, she very promptly made information before Alderman McMasters against the gentleman. A warrant was issued.

Assault and Battery.—The domestic arrangements of John Meal, of the Ninth ward, are rather inharmonious, if his own statement is to be relied on. He appeared before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, and lodged an information for assault and battery against his wife, Eliza Meal, alias Eliza Dudley, stating that she had attacked and beaten him pretty severely with her shut fist and otherwise abused him. A hearing was had in the case and after mutual explanation the matter was compromised and the suit withdrawn.

Cross Suits.—John Swaney yesterday brought suit against Joseph Hastings for surety of the peace before Alderman McMasters. This is a cross suit arising out of a former difficulty between the parties, which resulted in a suit against Swaney by Hastings for damages, which we noticed in a former issue. Swaney states that Hastings threatened to knock his brains out with a stone, accompanying the threat with other hostile demonstrations. A warrant was issued.

Great Semi-Annual Clearance Sale at J. W. Barker & Co.'s, No. 59 Market Street.

The semi-annual clearance sales of J. W. Barker & Co., No. 59 Market street, have ever been regarded by those who can appreciate rare opportunities for bargains in choice dry goods, as carnivals for purchase making. The firm always carry an immense stock of seasonable dry goods, and never wishing to "carry over" from one season to another any considerable portion of their goods, have inaugurated this special sale system, and generally, through the sacrifice of goods, clear out the larger portion of their stock, and commence new seasons fresh and ready for all competition with an entirely new stock and new styles. Of late the firm have on hand a very large and extensive stock of foreign and domestic dry goods suitable for Spring aud Summer wear, and while their ordinary trade has been large, there still remains on hand an immense stock of choice goods which it is proposed to sell out at greatly reduced prices at the present grand clearance sale which commenced on Monday. This sale may be regarded as one of the most tempting and remarkable ever held in the city, and many of the goods will be sold at prices less than ever before prevailed in this city. We cannot too earnestly advise our readers to "make hay while the sun shines," and patronize the house of Barker & Co. during the prevalence of the unusual clearance. While the sale is made specially to benefit the numerous retail patrons of the house, wholesale purchasers will also be permitted to partake of the advantages, great special reductions having been made in their favor. The clearance will continue until such time as all the goods are disposed of, and the prudent and economical will embrace the rare opportnnity presented to purchase goods ahead.

Grenadines from 37½c—Bates & Bell's.

Brutal Assault.

A most brutal and unwarranted assault was made upon James Daugherty, head salesman in Rodelheim's grocery, on Smithfield street, yesterday morning, by Thomas Hart, residing in the cellar of No. 4, Splane's Court. It appears that Hart's son, a boy eight or ten years of age, went into the store on Monday evening, and was stealing dried peaches out of a barrel which stood near the door. Daugherty caught him at it, struck him on the head, and drove him out of the store.

About ten o'clock yesterday morning, Hart, accompanied by his wife, went into the store, and the wife pointing to Daugherty said: "that is the man;" whereupon Hart picked up a two pound weight and struck him on the head three times. The fourth blow felled him to the floor, and fractured the skull. The other blows were on the side of the head, and although each of them made a severe gash they did not injure his skull. Daugherty was alone in the store at the time, and was found a few moments after the act had been committed, lying upon the floor insensible and bleeding profusely. The proprietor sent for a carriage and had him conveyed to his residence, on Poplar Alley, 6th ward, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Daily, who states that it is possible they may prove fatal. Hart, it appears, left the premises immediately, and had not been arrested at a late hour last night. The police searched the Court, but the inhabitants of that delectable locality declined to aid the officers in making the arrest.

Disorderly Conduct.

Mrs. Kate Joyce made information before Mayor Drum, yesterday morning, against Michael McNamara for disorderly conduct. It seems that Michael, who was slightly under the influence of the ardent last Sunday morning, made his appearance at the residence of the Joyce family, having in view the castigation of the head thereof. Failing to execute his design at the house, he laid in wait until Mr. Joyce left to take a stroll, and embracing the opportunity, beat him to his heart's content. The case was heard yesterday morning, and it was finally settled by Michael paying a fine of ten dollars. In return he made information against Mrs. Cuff for selling liquor on Sunday. She occupies the front room of the Joyce mansion, and from her he says he procured the liquor which caused him to act so disorderly. A hearing was had in this case yesterday evening, which resulted in the defendant being held for her appearance at Court.

Most Bitters of the present day that are loudly puffed through the newspapers as having great curative properties are vile compounds and base impositions, containing no medicinal virtues whatever, and are really very poor whisky beverages, and, instead of acting as a stimulant and tonic, have a tendency to weaken the stomach by entirely destroying the coating. The public should therefore be very cautious and purchase none but Roback's Stomach Bitters, which have stood the test as a remedial agent for many years, and are really as their name indicates, a stomach bitters and not a beverage. They combine the properties of the best tonic and a stimulant—a laxative, an efficient and anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world, and when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, are the safest and surest preventive against all bilious derangements, thoroughly regulating the whole system and giving tone to the digestive organs.

They are highly recommended as an invigorating tonic to mothers while nursing, increasing the flow of milk, and for convalescents, to restore the prostration which always follows long-continued sickness, they are unsurpassed. No household should consider themselves safe from the ordinary maladies without these invaluable medicines. They can be obtained of any druggist. WFMF
